

Large grid of numerical data representing topographic information, including elevation and depth values across a coordinate system.

